

Reflection Questions:

1. Can you recall times or seasons of your life when you related to God in a legal way? As a child of God?
2. What are the characteristics of knowing God in these ways? Which characteristics are present in your life now?
3. How does being God's child transform your relationships with others - seeing them as brothers and sisters?

Practice for the Week:

Observe in the news, and in your life, how people relate to one another in a 'legal' way. At the end of the day, spend a few minutes in prayer and imagine (with God) how the world would change (and even the Church!) if we lived as children of God.
